

Going Rogue & Issue 18: Shades of Grey

Contributed by Shadow Kitty
Friday, 17 September 2010

Going Rogue is finally here! The gleaming city of Praetoria awaits those of us that wish to serve Emperor Cole or joining the Resistance and see his regime toppled from power. There is a whole plethora of content to see and hints of things to come if you look out for them. But this is only for our newest toons to enjoy. Our established level 50's will have to wait their turn to walk the streets of Praetoria or stalk the deadly ghoul infested underground.

But that's not all that has been given to us in this issue; we have the infamous Cathedral of Pain Trial that has been inactive a number of years for us to sink our teeth into team up to defeat a being like no other Rularuu!

The ability to change our morality will forever change the balance of power for the last 6 years. Heroes teamed with heroes and villains with villains; only with the co-op zones have we had the opportunity to team with those of the opposite alignment. But until now, we could never experience each others' content from a different perspective.

Going Rogue has also seen many old players return as well as new ones join the game. It's also a great opportunity to expand the ranks of The Echelon, both good and evil sides. If you find someone looking to join a SG, point them to one of our members who can make it happen; alternatively, have them introduce themselves on the forum.

See you on the other side!